State Auditor Scibert has recently put out a little compilation of so called "Facts and Figures" for the voters of expenses of the Republican general as-sembly for 1960 and 70 amounted to 1342.285.36, and that the pay and expen ses of the Democratic general assain 1889 90, amounted to $133,812.65 Now, as a matter of fact, the Auditor report for '33 90, shows that in addition to the pay of the general assembly 1889, which was $133.81245, the contigent expenses of the general assembly for the same year were $137,607.45, making a total of $271,460.10. Now why ture of this last item of $137,617,15 from

It is contemptable on his part to make such a comparison at al. He knows. and so does every one conversant with the history of the state, that the general assembly expenses in 1869-70 were for annual sessions instead of for bien nial sessions, as is now the case. Annual sessions were provided for by law before the Republicans obtained control. An nual sessions were regularly held under years, to draw the conclusion that a single session of the Lepublican general assembly cost a great deal more than a single session of the Lepublican general assembly cost a great deal more than a single session of the day.
